

Rent a FIAT 500 Kft. (Rent a FIAT 500 Ltd.) takes extreme care in managing data by the relevant regulations, especially when dealing with and storing personal information to comply with the Civil Code 2011, CXII Act (Infotv) on information and autonomy and information freedom.

When visiting the Rent a FIAT 500 Kft's website www.rentafiat500.hu, via the search engine used by the visitor called interprotocoll (IP address) and domain name (URL), the information given is used exclusively for improving our website and for collecting statistical information.

In order to get to the individual functions (e.g. ordering service, newsletter signup and other direct marketing) on the website (www.rentafiat500.hu) it is necessary to provide certain personal information (for ordering the service: name, address/invoicing address, nationality, place and date of birth, ID or passport number, drivers' licence number and expiry date, email address, telephone number, address and address of stay at the time of the rental period, information of the rental agreement; for the direct mail: name and e-mail address). Giving this information is optional and will enable to reach a wider range of services on the website or to leave contact for the future.

The legal basis of the data management 5. § (1) a) of the data management act (Infotv.) that states the provision of the mandatory data listed above is deemed to be a voluntary approval of the data management process by the set out regulations.

The data management period lasts until the user terminates the relationship with the exception of information contained in the Rental Agreement which is 8 years.

For these reasons, the data management is only applicable for realizing the purpose therein for the necessary time and depth and only the parts that are absolutely necessary for achieving the set out goals (or until it is terminated).

The appropriate level technical and computer systems and data preserving storage of Rent a FIAT 500 Kft. are located at its head office and at partners contracted for providing information technology support.

Rent a FIAT 500 Kft. protects all data from unauthorized access, change, transfer, publishing and deletion.

For advertising reasons, Rent a FIAT 500 Kft. informs clients - who have given previous approval - about products and services. Clients can terminate this service in writing should they not require such information anymore.

Data protection register id: in progress

Clients concerned about data management can request information about the management of their personal data, can require correction – except for obligatory data management – deletion by email to info@rentafiat500.hu or by post on: Rent a FIAT 500 Ltd. 1163 Budapest, Veres Péter út 51.
